McNamara Tells Of Air Strike Over Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara said today planes hit Hanoi-Haliphong oil depots today to make North Viet Nam's infiltration of the south-most costly. He portrayed the raids as highly successful. McNamara said every effort was made to prevent harm to civilians and to prevent destruction of nonmilitary facilities. He told a broadcast and televised news conference the decision to strike the petroleum facilities was made by President Johnson on his recommendation and that of Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

McNamara said "the decision to strike these targets was made to restrict and make more costly the enemy's infiltration" of South Viet Nam.

Another objective, he said, was to "save the lives" of the South Vietnamese, Americans, Australians and South Koreans fighting in South Viet Nam.

The action, McNamara said, was response to a swift and rising North Vietnamese buildup in South Viet Nam which has converted the fighting there into a "quasi-conventional war operation."

That buildup, he said, has made the North Vietnamese forces and their Viet Cong allies increasingly dependent on strike—movement—of heavy supplies, increasing the strategic importance of fuel.

McNamara said more than 60 per cent of North Viet Nam's oil storage facilities were in the three target areas hit.

Other Pentagon sources said that prior to today's devastating strikes only 15 per cent of North Viet Nam's petroleum facilities had been knocked out in recent intensified raids.

McNamara emphasized that the United States' policy is to attack only military targets in North Viet Nam and targets of support.

Postmasters Winding Up Convention Here

The work of postal inspectors was explained during the noon luncheon meeting Wednesday of the Idaho Chapter of the National Association of Postmasters and Idaho Branch of the National League of Postmasters at the Holiday Inn. 4 Killed as British Ship Explodes

NEW YORK (AP) — Like a deadly echo of disaster, the British tanker Alva Capo exploded and burned in New York harbor, adding at least four deaths to the toll of 33 in a harrowing collision June 16.

This time the 11,252-ton Alva Capo was stricken at anchor off Brooklyn, while the remains of its naphtha cargo were being removed.

A new flash of flame seared the hull Tuesday and there was fear of a greater disaster until a tug bravely pushed the barge unloading the naphtha away from the flames.

Besides the four known dead in Tuesday's explosion, nine were injured and three were missing.

News of the new disaster was carried to a Coast Guard Inquiry seeking the cause of the Alva Capo's June 16 collision with the American tanker Texaco Massachusetts in the Kill Van Kull between New Jersey and Staten Island. The inquiry was suspended when the word was received.

3-Year-Old Girl Killed by Elephant in Wisconsin Zoo

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Nine-year-old Michael Sharpe heard a mother scream.

A 3-year-old girl with her bag of popcorn had slipped under the gate near the elephant cage at the Henry Vilas Park Zoo Tuesday.

Winkle, a 3½ ton import from India, snaked hot trunk out through the bars and curled it around the child.

"I didn't know what to do," Michael said. "Winkle just grabbed her and started pulling her in. She was trumpeting and the girl's mother was screaming. I don't know what was

LAW OFFICERS, with the aid of a youth and his motorboat, drag the Snake River for the body of a Texas man who drowned Tuesday afternoon. The man, James Lewis Wheeler, 24, had been swimming with friends at a boat landing area directly above Shoshone Falls dam when he drowned. Twin Falls County Sheriff's officers and city police worked together to recover his body. It was located in 15 feet of water about 20 minutes after he disappeared. (Times-News photo)

Drowning Near Falls Claims Life of Man

A Texas man, 24, drowned in the Snake River Tuesday afternoon while attempting to swim across the river above Shoshone Falls. The man, identified by Twin Falls County Sheriff's officers as James Lewis Wheeler, whose address was given as Lubbock, Tex., disappeared beneath the water about 25 yards from the bank of the river. The area where Wheeler had been swimming is used as a boat landing and is directly above the Shoshone Falls dam. He had been swimming with friends. The sheriff's office was notified of the drowning at about 5:40 p.m. and with the aid of Twin Falls City Police had a boat in the water and had recovered the body by 6:05 p.m. with a dragging device.

Mr. Johnson said it is possible to operate the camp with the main lodge. She said the lodge, which burned to the foundation Saturday, contained a kitchen, dining room and store room. Everything, including tools, craft equipment and infirmary bedding, was destroyed with an estimated loss of more than $35,000.

Mrs. Johnson said temporary kitchen facilities will be arranged and by using the large cabin, Shangri La, as a dining room, campers will not be inconvenienced.

Mrs. Johnson said the lodge and contents were partially covered by insurance. Replacement items will be mostly donated or borrowed. Some pots and pans probably will be purchased.

Boys Scouts will join some of Wheeler's friends made it to the rock and apparently Wheeler got tired when he was about half way there. Wheeler then started to swim back to shore but went under the surface of the water.

One of Wheeler's friends, Clinton Coulson and Rick Krolik, both Twin Falls, dove several times in an attempt to locate the body, but could not.

The body was taken to White Mortuary and will be sent to Oklahoma for funeral services.

Several hundred Twin Falls residents officially greeted Miss Idaho 1968—Cheryl Couch, 19, year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Couch, Twin Falls—Tuesday evening at a reception in the City Park band shell.

H. L. (Herb) Derrick, city manager, and master of ceremonies for the evening, and the reception was excellent.

It was understood that the prime purpose of the current inquiry is to guard against future "leaks."

Onganía Sworn in As Leader of New Argentina Regime

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Lt. Gen. Juan Carlos Onganía, a former army chief, was sworn in today as head of a new military regime that hopes to win over some of the masses still loyal to Juan D. Perón. The ceremony was brief. Onganía, 32, was picked by a three-man military junta made up of the present commanders of the army, navy and air force. They took control Tuesday after the army overthrew the civilian government of President Arturo Illia in a bloodless overnight coup.

The military gave no indication how long it intends to remain in power. Veteran observers predicted it will be several years before it permits election of another civilian regime.

The military, which overthrew Perón and sent him into exile in 1955, is determined to prevent the Peronists from returning to power. Its chief grievance against Illia was his failure to reduce the strength of Perón's followers, who won control of three of Argentina's 22 provinces in recent elections and probably would have won Buenos Aires Province in elections next March.

The Junta said it plans sweeping economic, political and social reforms aimed at weeding Argentina away from Peronism. It estimated 20 to 30 percent of Argentina's 12 million voters still recall with longing the benefits Perón gave them during his nine-year dictatorship.

The military said two of its main aims are "rebuilding Argentina's prestige abroad and modernizing the country."

State AFL-CIO Is Neutral on Tax Issue

BURLEY — The Idaho AFL-CIO adopted a neutral position on the sales tax today, urging all eligible voters to express themselves on the issue in the referendum next November. Adoption of the resolution came on a voice vote at the labor organization's annual convention. There were no negative votes. The convention had before it five proposed resolutions on the sales tax. Four of them opposed the levy, which was enacted by the 1965 legislature, and one supported it. But the resolutions committee agreed that to submit any of the proposals to the convention floor would stir a bitter fight and the compromise was drafted.

It said that since the sales tax will be on the ballot in the Nov. 8 general election in the form of a resolution, the decision on it will be made by the people, regardless of the position any organization might take.

In one of a number of other resolutions adopted by the convention, which planned a late afternoon adjournment, the AFL-CIO urged construction of a transmission line to carry electric power from the Bonneville Power Administration system into southern Idaho.

The resolution said the BPA power is needed to better serve the phosphate industry, farmers and the general public as well as to entice new industry to come into southern Idaho.

Speaking to the convention today was the last of the five candidates for governor in this year's primary election. The fourth, Orval Johnson, council president.

State Sen. Cecil D. Andrus of Orofino, a Democratic candidate, said that if he is elected governor and the legislature enacts a "right to work" bill he would veto it.

He said that complete utilization of Idaho's water resources is a necessity if the state is to develop its full potential.

Andrus said, "that there was nothing more tragic than a jobless man or a manless job. We are surrounded by states which are taking our children, our teachers, processing our raw materials and now they are demanding our water."

"We need many small dams in Idaho for upstream storage and recommended that Idaho reach an agreement with other See HERNDON, Pg. 2, Col. 4

Herndon Says Idaho Needs Water Plans

During a brief visit to Twin Falls Tuesday afternoon Charles Herndon, Salmon, Democratic candidate for governor, said Idaho must initiate immediate plans to develop its water resources before the federal government takes control.

Herndon said the government currently has plans which would transfer much of Idaho's water to the Southwest. He said the reason for this is because "we currently have no plans concerning usage of our water."

Herndon said there are many water programs, such as the Salmon Falls program, which, under proper state executive control on a local level, should be initiated at once. He said this can be done without full approval of the federal government.

Herndon said he completely agrees with Richard High, Republican candidate for state senator, District 23, that these programs can be constructed at much less cost than set forth in basic federal plans.

According to Herndon, much of the fault in lack of proper water conservation lies with the executive government, not the state level. He said there just is

Ordinance on Pornography Is Approved

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) — Girls' magazines to be enclosed off limits to persons under 21 years of age in Lewiston beginning Friday.

Enclosures for magazines with pictures of exposed female breasts or persons otherwise nude or semi-nude, are required by an amendment added to Lewiston's anti-pornography ordinance Monday night.

Critics say the measure would cover National Geographic and other such magazines. The American Civil Liberties Union says it plans to test the constitutionality of the measure in court.

But City Attorney William A. Stellmon said the ordinance only restricts display of girls' magazines and involves no censorship. "There is no violation in selling to anybody," he said. "If a two-year-old walks up to a counter and says 'sell me a copy of Playboy from behind the enclosure,' there is nothing to prevent him from buying it." He must know what he wants," Stellmon said, "and ask for it."

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — That mixture of hyper-thyroidism and expediency which characterizes deliberations in the courthouse known as the Supreme Court has been served up to the citizenry again in the court's refusal to make retroactive its tough new guidelines on convictions. In effect, the 1 to 2 majority has decided that the practice of life-wipes out an injustice. A week earlier, in the opinion of many prosecutors and court, had ruled by 5 to 4 that henceforth a person must be advised immediately upon being taken into custody of his right to remain silent and have a lawyer. This made sense because it reaffirmed the constitutional guarantee against self-incrimination, although his right will be a ruddy nuisance to the poor cop trying to convict a career criminal who knows all the legal ropes.

STRANGE DISTINCTION — But now the court has backed away from that ruling by deciding that those curbs on interrogation would apply only to citizens whose trials began after the court imposed the guidelines. Whatever the merits of his case, a person who was convicted by a confession the charges were coerced will have no further legal recourse if his case has been closed.

The majority's reason for this curious reasoning is explained in the opinion written by Chief Justice Earl Warren, and it is a frightening one. It is that making the new guidelines retroactive "would seriously disrupt the administration of our criminal laws." In other words, it would be an inconvenience to the law enforcement bureaucracy.

This is sheer, idiotic, discriminatory expediency. There are some valid arguments that the court erred in its guidelines decision, but if that decision applies to one case, it should in basic fairness apply to all cases. As Justice Hugo Black and William Douglas noted in their dissent, there is "no reason for discriminating" against prisoners whose direct appeals were "of the same vintage" of the test case considered by the court.

ANNOYANCE, BUT — Admittedly, retroactivity would have caused law enforcement officials considerable inconvenience. But the new ruling, to put it blandly, is of considerable inconvenience to prisoners whose confessions were beaten out of them with rubber hoses. Besides, the court has ruled that the new guidelines now constitute the law of the land.

The tragic thing about this latest decision is not that it is the most restrictive application of a constitutional doctrine ever imposed by the Supreme Court, although that is bad enough. After all, it would seem to go without saying that anyone in prison as a result of a trial in which a constitutional right had been violated should be released and/or retired.

COMPROMISE WITH JUSTICE — But what lends the ruling an ugly aspect is the impression that it was calculated to take some of the sting out of the earlier anti-death-penalty decision. In the new ruling, the court seemed to be trying to placate those lawmen who had denounced the guidelines as putting an end to all police questioning. Laws should not be written to please anyone, even a policeman, or to suit any administrative convenience, but to protect the rights of the citizenry. This latest abortion smacks too much of a political deal in some untidy back room.

Indeed, neither the liberal nor the conservative bloc on the court seems to be overstepped with common sense. Dissenting from the earlier guidelines ruling, Justice John M. Harlan accused the majority of "dangerous experimentation" in the midst of an alarming national crime wave. It is hard to understand what the number of murders and rapes committed annually in this Republic has to do with any discussion of the protection of even the most malignant wrongdoer against the abuse of due process.

Water used in Idaho can't be diverted to California or any other place. So if members of Congress from the thirsty Southwest ever hope to get Columbia Basin water, they must make sure it remains "surplus." They would oppose any use of Snake River water on the Salmon Tract, or anywhere else. There is other opposition to the Salmon Tract project, too, but it comes from inside Idaho. Canal firms who have been using "run of the river" water beyond storage capacity don't want to give up that extra water. However, that's a relatively minor problem as compared to the effort to get congressional approval for any project involving Snake River water.

If anyone cares to count noses, congressmen from California, Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Texas, Nevada and Utah could be expected to oppose any further use of Idaho water in Idaho. And the attitude of easterners toward reclamation projects has been hostile for years. The only favorable votes in sight would be from the Columbia Basin states of Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Montana and possibly Wyoming. That adds up to an overwhelming victory for the forces that would divert Columbia Basin water to the Southwest.

These facts of political life also apply to the widely-publicized Southwest Idaho project sponsored in Congress by Idaho's Sen. Frank Church and Rep. Compton White. The ambitious project doesn't have a chance of congressional approval. It wouldn't be approved for two reasons, the first of which is the fact it would involve water that conceivably might be appropriated by the arid Southwest. The second reason would be the cost, although opponents will cite the cost as their principal reason for opposing the plan.

If anyone should need any proof of congressional attitudes toward use of Idaho water in Idaho, they need look no farther than a recent action of the House Interior Subcommittee. That body rejected an amendment proposed by Idaho to the $1.7 billion Colorado River Project bill to safeguard Northwest water rights. It's significant that the subcommittee didn't even bother with a roll call vote.

Along about the same time, the House Irrigation and Reclamation Subcommittee voted to include Kansas as a possible recipient of any water that might be diverted from the Northwest.

Such developments should be enough to prove to the most skeptical Idahans that the state is virtually alone in any plan for using Idaho water in Idaho. That's why Mr. High's proposal to the Idaho Water Resources Board suddenly makes good sense. And that's why the Water Board shouldn't dilly-dally too long in making up its collective mind what should be done. It's already later than Idahoans realize.

CLASSIC EXAMPLES

In ordering the Hanna Nickel Smelting Co., to reimburse the federal government more than $24,000, including $47,327 interest for part overcharges, U. S. District Judge Gus J. Solomon said:

"This is a classic case of unjust enrichment. From the date of overpayments, the company has had the use of the government's money."

An interesting point might be raised. Consider poor Joe Pungles, the wage earner and taxpayer. Each payday Joe's employer withholds some of his paycheck, and hands it over to the government.

At tax filing time Joe may find too much of his wages have been withheld and he may apply for a refund.

The government has had use of that overpayment for a considerable time at the best interest rates anyone can get — none.

Oregon's Joe Pungles have collected $41,111,054 in refunds in 1964. At a modest return, say six per cent, the interest would have been $24,017.

Now that's a classic?

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

Down goes our gold again — down and out — while Washington still plays "Waltz Me Around Again, Willie" with our balance-of-payments problem.

Free trade is the right goal and we must buy from the world, of course, to sell to the world. But we're still often talked into letting this be a one-way street:

All citizens who have saved anything for a rainy day and the American economy as a whole depend absolutely on the security of the American dollar.

Our gold reserve is now lower than that of Europe's Common Market. It has gone down every year for 10 years while the reserves of the six member countries of the Common Market have gone up.

France and West Germany alone, between them, now probably control enough dollar credits to knock mighty America off the gold standard.

A quarter of a million Americans are in West Germany guarding the border against invasion and nearly a million are in 30 other countries protecting the free world. We foot the bill and all this drains our gold.

Throughout Western Europe

demanded a quick exit by the generals. Looking back on it, their whole performance looked irresponsible for they never made clear how they would run a government or even that they could. But they performed.

Buddhists, men and women, burned themselves to death, spread nitars in the streets, multiplied anarchy. Ky suppressed them. Their futile leader, Tri Quang, took refuge in a hunger strike.

Ky grabbed him, empty stomach and all, put him in custody. The Buddhist revolt collapsed, but all this involved months slowed the war, made many Americans wonder whether this country should be mixed up in it at all.

And even if Ky emerged looking like a strong man, this may not last. In a land so unpredictable, but it was a slow six months mostly everywhere, and just-as-much as Viet Nam.

In Europe, French President Charles de Gaulle, with reports indicating he never even discussed the momentous step with his Cabinet, decided to do a wrecking job on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

He decided to pull his troops out of NATO. It was a shattering thing. It could have been a disaster for the Western alliance. Sometime it may prove to have been just that.

But the other 14 NATO allies patched the pieces together and De Gaulle made a trip to the Soviet Union, although nobody seems to know why, perhaps not even De Gaulle. Years from now he may seem to have been as irresponsible as Tri Quang.

Tensions, however, were off the United States if only because tensions between the Soviet Union and Red China increased. While they fussed and fumbled, communism encountered a disaster where unexpected and without battle.

In our gold crisis the Washington spokesmen ask Americans to save, our summer vacation travelers, and everybody else to do something. Washington's treatise on American market (which means our gold) like a chuck wagon cook calling to the cow pokes on the range, "Come and get it" through import policies that is a Mad Hatter's dream and a giveaway policy which is probably the quickest way still available to dollar us to death.

Even the West German steel industry itself is protesting to the German government against the quota on our cheaper and better coal. Britain, in turn, permits the import of no American coal whatever at any price. It's out of control.

Washington (AP) — The haps with Red China, if he war in Viet Nam is like a blind stepped it up too much. And puppy, it scampers, slips, burns its head, barks in pain. With this routine war continued chaos engulfed South Viet Nam.

Public opinion polls showed wounding confidence in Johnson's handling of the fighting. In American youths paraded, performed and protested against the war. This was a mixed picture too.

While some of the protesters must be credited with earnest convictions thoughtfully arrived at, for others, the motivations probably ranged from a simple desire to assert themselves discontent with things in general.

But they made noise. So did the Buddhists in Viet Nam. Right in the midst of the murky half of 1966, in Indonesia the Reds suffered disaster without any war at all.

Near the end of 1965 the United States stopped bombing North Viet Nam while President Johnson sent his emissaries scooting around overseas, talking peace, seeking signs of it. There were none, Hanoi stood firm.

So did Johnson. The bombing was resumed. The ground fighting continued. More deaths on both sides, more U.S. troops Viet Nam. At home the critics of the war leaned up on Johnson, in and out of Congress.

Johnson ordered a restrained Johnson, concerned about the dangers, personally. By success, the Buddhists then

The pro-Red Indonesian government of President Suharto was taken over by the military. Thousands were reportedly slaughtered, and the country now will probably turn pro-West.

Poor Man's Plato

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP) — A columnist counts that year lost in which he doesn't write at least one article telling young people how to live.

The trouble with most advice of this kind is that it consists of high-sounding platitudes. It isn't specific enough.

So, as my good deed for 1966, here are a series of down-to-earth suggestions that should help any young man live a longer and happier life:

Never marry a girl for her money unless she signs half of it over to you before the ceremony.

Try to associate with people who have qualities you admire. But also keep one bum as a friend, too. Seeing the mistakes he makes should help keep you from making them yourself.

Always keep your seat belt buckled. While riding in airplanes or automobiles,

If you're not "take-charge" type, don't go into business for yourself. You'll do better, working for others.

Eat a good breakfast, a light lunch and a light dinner.

Don't put up with bad meals. Insist that your wife learn to be really good cook, it'll make you both happier.

Don't go skiing after 30, or play tennis after 40, unless you can run a mile without exhaustion.

Buy shoes and shirts a half size larger than you need. You may be shooting your mind and feet to death without knowing it.

If you have to take aspirin more than once a month, change your way of living.

Make your vacations real adventures. Avoid going to the same place more than two years in a row.

If your boss or your job make you "desperately" unhappy, change them both — but better do it before you are 35.

Ask for a raise in pay once a year, whether you get it or not. Unless you yourself think you are worth more to the firm, the firm won't either.

Listen carefully when anyone offers to give you an inside tip on the stock market, and write it down. Then tear up the paper, and forget it.

Walk three miles every day it isn't raining, and two miles when it is.

See a sunrise and read a poem at least once every week as long as you live.

If you can't tell your wife you love her when you come home tired from the office, tell her at breakfast — the next morning. Sometimes that takes even more character.

Never buy more than three things at one time on the installment plan.

This is advice, faithfully followed, may not make a young millionaire. But at least it should help keep him out of jail or the poorhouse. That's about all you can expect from free advice.

Buy a new car every year.

SPRAYING HALTED — The proposed spraying of 124,000 acres of spruce budworm-infested timber in the Salmon National Forest has been called off.

F. E. Powers, forest supervisor, said Tuesday an early frost last fall and another frost several weeks ago apparently killed what was expected to be a very heavy batch of spruce budworm.

PROJECT TO BEGIN — Construction of the Pocatello Flood Control Project under a $5.75 million contract is to begin July 8 for completion in September 1968.

The contract for the work was awarded Tuesday to Murphy Brothers, Inc., of Spokane, Wash.

The Portneuf River is to run through a concrete channel through part of the city when the project is completed. River banks in the rest of the city will be lined.

HOND APPROVED

RIGBY (AP) — Rigby voters overwhelmingly approved a $100,000 bond issue Tuesday to finance a new sewer treatment facility.

The vote was 201 in favor, 39 against.

TO ORGANIZE — BOISE (AP) — The now Idaho Governor's Committee on Nuclear Science and Industry will hold its organization meeting Wednesday at Idaho Falls, Gov. Robert E. Smylie said Tuesday.

The committee was formed to keep the governor, legislature and state agencies advised of developments in nuclear science and its use in the state.

Smylie said the committee is an outgrowth of the group he appointed last year to promote the National Reactor Testing Station near Idaho Falls as a site for a multi-million-dollar proton accelerator.

HERNDON SPEAKS

SANDPOINT, Idaho (AP) — A white Democratic candidate can be assured only by a large turnout in the Aug. 2 primary election, says Democratic gubernatorial candidate Charles Herndon.

"This is the election," Herndon said, "for if we succeed in picking a non-controversial standard bearer, with few political scars, and who has not fallen into the sales tax trap, we will win in November."

Herndon spoke to the Bonner County Democratic Women's Club Tuesday.

Oregon Coed Fined for Contempt

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Annette Buchanan, 20-year-old student editor, was held in contempt Tuesday and ordered to pay a $300 fine for refusing to tell a grand jury the names of seven students who used marijuana.

She displayed no emotion as State Circuit Judge Edward Levy announced his decision. She declined comment after the two-day trial.

Her attorney, Arthur Johnson, told a news conference following the trial that he would file notice of appeal Wednesday to the Oregon Supreme Court.

Miss Buchanan, managing editor of the University of Oregon daily newspaper, the American, wrote a story, May 24 quoting seven students who described use and enjoyment of marijuana.

Distr. Atty. William Frye called her before the grand jury and asked her to give the names of the students. She refused, saying she told them she would not.

She said that to disclose the names would violate the reporter's tradition against violating confidences.

Oregon law does not give a newsmen the right to refuse to divulge confidential information. Twelve other states do.

Frye said in his closing argument that the grand jury needed Miss Buchanan's information. Her attorney said it could be obtained from other sources.

Frye said the traditions of the press have no standing under the law.

Johnson said the grand jury proceeding was improper. He said it was only a general inquiry, rather than a specific criminal case.

Britain's Sea Strike Is Over

LONDON (AP) — Britain's 45-day seamen's strike was settled today.

The executive committee of the National Seamen's Union voted 20 to 10 to call off the strike after meeting all morning at their South London headquarters.

The decision followed by less than 24 hours a charge in the House of Commons by Prime Minister Harold Wilson that Communists were pressuring the seamen to prolong the dispute for political motives.

The shipowners, in meetings Tuesday with union chiefs, were adamant. Their final offer was an immediate cut in the working week at sea from 56 hours to 48 with a further eight-hour cut next June, plus 48 days annual vacation.

The strike has tied up nearly 800 ships in British ports and 27,000 men have been idle,

Housing Bill Approved by Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Banking Committee sent to the floor with its approval Tuesday a bill giving a go-ahead to President Johnson's plan for demonstration projects to erase slums in about 60 cities.

No dollar amounts were included in the authorization, with appropriations left to future legislation. Administration officials have talked of six-year, $2.3-billion program, but say they plan to seek only planning money during the year starting July 1.

Committee approval 17 to 8 of the massive housing and renewal measure — with only minor changes from what the housing subcommittee recommended — was praised by Johnson as "vital legislation important to the future of American cities large and small."

Also in the measure were other major administration recommendations, including a Johnson proposal turned down last year — special aid for the planning and construction of entire new towns.

Marriage of Humphrey's Son Is Postponed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The wedding of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's son to a Minnesota girl has been postponed, it was announced today.

A statement issued by the vice president's office quoted Mrs. Raymond Erickson of Hamptom, Minn., as saying:

"I regret that the illness of my daughter Donna makes it necessary for us to postpone the marriage to Robert Humphrey, son of the vice president."

Donna, 21, suffering from pneumonia, was hospitalized last Friday in Cannon Falls, Minn., and transferred to St. Barnabas Hospital in Minneapolis Monday night.

Bob, 22, and Donna had planned to marry July 9.

Iron Deficiency

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Morganella, a 12-year-old elephant at Forest Park Zoo, has eaten the padlock and a 9-inch chain on her cage—about three pounds of metal.

Animal experts have assured zoo officials the only treatment is to let the digestive tract take its natural course.

Zoo officials diagnosed her case by applying a metal-detector device to the outside of her stomach. They had noticed she seemed a bit sick and the lock and chain were missing.

Foreign Aid Head Resigns

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson accepted Tuesday with deep regret the resignation of David E. Bell, foreign aid administrator.

Bell is resigning effective Friday to become vice president of the Ford Foundation in charge of international activities.

The White House said Johnson will nominate as Bell's successor William S. Gaud, who has been deputy administrator of the Agency for International Development since February 1964.

Before being named by President John F. Kennedy to head the AID program, Bell was U.S. budget director.

Gaud, 58, and a native of New York City, became an assistant administrator of the AID program, specializing in the Near East and South Asia in 1961, and became deputy administrator in 1964.

Interest Rate On Savings Is Increased

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Home Loan Bank Board gave the savings and loan associations a new weapon in their bitter interest rate war with commercial banks Tuesday — a per cent dividend rate on six-month saving certificates.

This was the second time in as many days that a federal agency has stepped into the battle surrounding the certificates of deposit on which commercial banks can pay as much as 5.5 per cent interest.

In both cases, the pressure on savings and loan associations should be eased.

The Federal Reserve Board approved Monday what it termed a moderate restraint on bank time deposits by increasing from 4 to 5 per cent the reserves which must be held against certificates.

Chairman John E. Horne of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board said, however, that this "dramatic action" by the federal reserve was a determining factor in Tuesday's action by his agency, taken after two days of meetings with the presidents of the 12 federal home loan banks.

The U.S. Savings and Loan League which also had criticized the federal reserve move as insufficient, referred to Tuesday's action of the home loan bank board as wise.

Beginning July 1, savings and loan associations throughout the country — not just those in California, where competition for savings is especially keen — may pay up to 5 per cent annually on six-month saving certificates in denominations of not less than $1,000.

Savings certificates are similar to certificates of deposit. Under both systems, a savings and loan association or bank agrees to pay a relatively high interest rate if a customer leaves money on deposit for a specific period — in Tuesday's case, six months.

Campaign of Idaho Soldier Is Approved

BOISE (AP) — Military approval was reported Tuesday for the kind of political campaign an eastern Idaho woman hopes will bring her Army captain husband the Democratic nomination for congressman.

George Willmore of Rexburg, an Army captain now on active duty in Viet Nam, is entering in the Democratic race for representative from Idaho's Second District.

Also seeking the Democratic nomination is A. W. Brunt of Idaho. Both were endorsed by the Democratic State Assembly.

Willmore's nominating petitions were filed by his wife, who is campaigning for him.

Mrs. Willmore said military regulations prohibit her husband from soliciting votes but do not prevent others from working for him. She said she expects Willmore home on leave early in July.

A Pentagon spokesman said military regulations prohibit elections.

Employees to Get Trading Stamps

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — City employees who can avoid accidents on the job will be awarded trading stamps each month under a new Scottsdale safety promotion program.

The year-long experimental program will make about 200 employees eligible for participation and will cost the city about $350. Employees who have hazardous jobs will be given 200 stamps for each accident-free month; those in safer positions can get 100 and office workers will be eligible to receive 50.

Committee Okays Water Project Studies in Idaho

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preliminary studies for 18 Idaho water projects — and a Columbia River Basin account to help finance them — have been approved by the Senate Interior Committee.

Sen. Frank Church, Idaho, said the feasibility studies approved cover all phases of the $710 million Southwest Idaho water development project proposed by Church and Rep. Compton L. White, D-Idaho.

They also include several major phases of a Southeast Idaho water development project proposed by Sen. Len B. Jordan and Rep. George Hansen, Idaho Republicans.

The Southwest Idaho project is proposed to irrigate some 500,000 acres of desert with water from a series of dams and reservoirs in the northern rim.

Under the proposed Columbia River Basin account, Idaho projects would receive a share of surplus federal power revenues from dams downstream in Oregon and Washington.

SHOENE — Completion of the interior and addition of kitchen-boards and siding on the rear are all part of the plan of expansion of the Shoshone Methodist church through the contribution of $1,000 from the annual Methodist Men's club. Methodist Men's club contributions are received within the Eastern District of the Idaho Conference. Methodist Church has received $10 contribution from Methodist man during the year. The Shoshone church was the first recipient.

The church receiving the gift is expected to match and that year, therefore, members will be raising at $1,000 to go toward the building program. Last year received $4,000 and the church basement, fellowship hall and much of the interior, restrooms and front entrance.

Contribution was presented by Rev. Wendell Coo, Boise, Western District superintendent for the Idaho Conference of the Methodist Church, and Rev. Leon Bolen, Pocatello, chairman Board of Missions for the Conference.

U.S. Drugs and Antibiotics Finding Way Into Hands of Enemy in Viet Nam

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — In Saigon's teeming slums, 7th Police Precinct, a tough Viet Cong guerrilla team collects precious drugs by shopping at the corner drug store.

Penicillin costs the equivalent of five cents a shot. Antimalaria pills less than a penny each.

Both are financed by America.

In the countryside, police roadblocks each month net about 3,000 assorted vials and packages of drugs. Perhaps 10 times that amount gets through.

Some goes into the civilian black market. The rest goes to the Communists.

On the "Street of Thieves," the enterprising black marketeer can pick up almost any standard item of military equipment. He can also buy such U.S. items as steel, cement, copper wire, asbestos roofing and such GI staples as long-playing records, cigarettes and whisky.

At one time, in the beginning of the war, the torn patchwork of the economy in the nation of 18 million, battered by 20 years of strife, was the problem of economic stability. In the land where people more often than not view their government with suspicion and give their loyalty to families, villages and religion.

The problem involves how to deal with galloping inflation in the midst of war. And how to deal with the twin threats of a civilian black market and a supply line from Saigon to the Viet Cong.

Articles flowing into Communist hands range from batteries to aspirin. Sampans have been intercepted trying to smuggle through complicated lathes for manufacture of ammunition and arms, and small motors for generators, buried in shipments of fertilizer. Drugs and small items are stuffed in bicycle tires, in cabbages, in the shapeless bundles carried by old women, in false-bottom gasoline tanks.

Bulk shipments like rice and cement require false papers and bribery.

About the highest estimate of AID goods unaccounted for is 20 per cent. Even if this is correct, the figure may be misleading.

Most of the material unaccounted for, U.S. officials say, gets into the civilian market and does not go to the Communists. The Viet Cong, according to American estimates, probably get less than 8 per cent of the lost goods. Nobody really knows exactly what the Communists do get. He was a Vietnamese of Chinese origin, unpopular with both peoples. Dealing with other towering problems, the regime does not want to complicate its economic difficulties by overly upsetting the powerful Chinese minority.

Ironically, not all the missing AID items have wound up in black market or Communist hands. For example, the AID mission has about 11,000 vehicles to care for, with spares parts in about 40 Saigon warehouses. Getting spare parts through channels can take months. A provincial AID representative often gets what he needs through bribe, bribery, theft and old-fashioned scavenging and swapping. A provincial doctor may do the same thing.

"Inventory control is practically impossible right now," a provincial representative remarked.

And policing is difficult, too.

To properly police every single item would require an auditing staff and police force as large as the White Marine Corps, 100,000, one official said.

The mission cannot even fill some vacancies.

Pope Paul Receives Report on Birth Control

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI was handed Tuesday an 800-page "final report" that will form the basis for his much-awaited major pronouncement on birth control.

Julius Cardinal Döpfner, of Munich, Germany, spent an hour with the Pontiff when he brought in the recommendations of the Pope's special study commission.

The commission worked two years to draw up what reportedly is a series of conclusions reflecting several viewpoints rather than a single unanimous idea about possible changes in Roman Catholic moral teaching on contraception.

Pope Paul is expected to give the report.

Vatican circles speculated that the conservative Italian cardinal may have been reluctant to hand the Church to allow use of any form of contraception except the rhythm method of periodic abstinence, the 1962-1965 Vatican Ecumenical Council had been against shifting the Church's long-revered position on birth control.

Some of the commission had wanted no change at all in the Church's teaching. Others wanted the Church to allow use of the modern pill but only for the regulation of the monthly female cycle. Still others urged permission for general use of contraceptives by Catholic couples.

Actor Robert Taylor Is Back Making Movie at MGM

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Now, but his figure remains trim, Robert Taylor is back making a movie at MGM. The famous Taylor hairline, widow's peak, and all, is the same as ever.

"That should evoke a rush of memories for the movie buff. All those wondrous old films: 'Camille,' 'Waterloo Bridge,' 'Broadway Melody,' 'Johnny Eager,' 'A Yank at Oxford,' etc."

And what about those titles: "Wicked Woman," "Society Doctor," "Gorgeous Husky," "Her Cardboard Lover," "Times Square Lady," etc.

All these films and many more were made by Taylor during the longest contract ever fulfilled by a Hollywood star. He signed with MGM in 1934 when he was Spangler Arlington Brough, just out of Pomona College. His exclusive contract ended in 1958, but he remained until 1961 on a nonexclusive basis.

Now he's back playing in a Western, "Return of the Gunfighter." How does the old lot look to him?

"Much the same... maybe a little more run-down," he commented bluntly.

Unlike aging studios, Taylor remains in fine condition. At 54, his face is a bit more seamed,

Registrations For Camp Are Being Taken

Registrations for the YMCA camp Aug. 13-20 at Cathedral Pines near Ketchum are now being accepted, and boys and girls from Magic Valley who wish to attend do not have to be member.

Each camper will share a cabin with seven other boys or girls and will be supervised by a carefully selected counselor.

Cabin groups will have the opportunity to plan each day's activities with the help of their counselor and the program director.

Persons desiring to attend the camp may also earn part, or all of the cost by participating in the Y's peanut sales program. The job is selling vacuum packed cans of candy-coated peanuts and all profits go toward the camper's fees.

For a Y-camp folder call 733-3384 or write to 1751 Elizabeth Blvd., Twin Falls.

READY TO BEGIN SHOEING A HORSE, holding his hoof trimmer, is Marty Habel, Hailey, who shoes many horses in preparation for "The Days of the Old West," Hailey's Fourth of July celebration. Habel, who shoes more than 400 horses a year, finds there is a "rush" during the month before the Hailey event. (Times-News photo)

Horseshoer Kept Busy as Hailey Celebration Nears

HAILEY — Many people do five horses a year.

"When I break a horse, I make him gentle on all sides, top and bottom," he said.

He will not try to break a horse over three years old.

Habel was born on a ranch at Great Falls, Mont. His father sold out in 1937 and at the age of 17 he was on his own, with $5 in his pocket and an old saddle.

He went to work at the Pitch Fork Ranch near Cody, Wyo., and rode for several big cattle outfits in Wyoming before enlisting in the Navy in 1941.

After his honorable discharge, he was cow boss for the Deep Canyon Ranch near Monroe, Mont., Wyoming and Nebraska.

Habel has built a stable on an acre of ground north of the Hailey city limits for breaking and boarding horses. He says he hopes to work it into a full-time business to serve the people of the Wood River Valley who would like to keep their horses near home during the winter months.

An open house to celebrate the first anniversary of the Environmental Science Services Administration (ESSA) will be held from 1-9 p.m. July 15 at the Weather Bureau Agricultural Service Office located in the Snake River Conservation Research Center northeast of Kimberly.

Yellowstone Park Building Plans Given Approval

The contract would authorize the Yellowstone Park Co. to provide public accommodations, facilities and services for a 30-year period beginning Oct. 1, 1968.

The firm would be required to complete the building and renovation program by June 30, 1975.

The committee's action permits the Interior Department to release the contract after a required 60-day waiting period.

Bank System Will Issue Credit Card

An "all-purpose" credit card will soon be available throughout the First Security System of Banks. It was announced Tuesday by George E. Eccles, president of the Intermountain banking organization.

Under an agreement just signed, First Security Bank of Idaho, N. A. is among the first banks in the United States licensed to issue BankAmericard, a highly-successful bank credit card which has been in existence for several years only in California.

Within the next few months, Eccles said, First Security Banks will begin issuing BankAmericard to an initial group of residents of Utah and Idaho with good credit standing. The cards will be honored by a wide variety of merchants throughout the two-state area, he said.

In addition, Eccles said, persons who hold the card will be able to use it immediately in several other states, and eventually, throughout the nation.

Selective Service System Is Criticized in Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Selective Service System was pictured as "a sacred cow" today and a California congressman said low-grade civil service clerks are running local draft boards.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., criticized current draft deferment tests, saying:

"First, we provide an inferior education for black students. Next, we give them a series of tests which many will flunk because of an inferior education."

4-H Club Meets

Plans for 4-H camp were discussed when the Buoy-Dover 4-H group met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lee Eldredge.

Members worked on their projects during the meeting. The next meeting will be held July 5 at the home of Mrs. Eldredge.

ASSIGNED

KIMBERLY—Army Pfc. Dennis E. Eslinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer D. Eslinger, Route 1, Kimberly, has been assigned to the 9th Logistical Command, Korat, Thailand.

"Then we pack these academic fallouts off to Viet Nam to be killed."

Rep. Chet Hollifield, D-Calif., appearing at a House Armed Services Committee hearing on the Selective Service System, claimed the civil service clerks are running local draft boards.

Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., blasted what he termed a draft procedure "operating in a hodgepodge of confusion and inconsistency."

He cannot accept the implication of some that the Selective Service System is a sacred cow, above whom and inviolable government," he declared.

A uniform system of deferments and a national central pool to include all top priority registrants were deemed most likely to end the inconsistency of the draft.

But the local board concept was defended by Rep. Joe Wangnor, D-La., who called it "the real strength of the draft."

"I am not one of those who believe that the wisdom of a computer can take the place of the wisdom of the mind," he said.

Duty Bound

DETROIT (AP)—George Wognle, 43, did what he considered his duty when he saw a thief steal a bag of money at a bank entrance from Richard Mullany, 73, gasoline station owner.

Boegelohn chased the thief in his car Monday, then followed him on foot down an alley but lost him.

When he returned to his car a few minutes later he found it broken into and $75 in cash taken. Also, a truck had rammed it, causing $50 damage.

U.S. Announces Long-Term Loan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States announced Tuesday a $70-million long-term loan to Pakistan for the purchase of U.S. commodities ending a suspension of U.S. economic support.

Long-term economic aid to both India and Pakistan was suspended 10 months ago as a result of the Kashmir conflict between the two nations.

Aid regional administrator William B. Macmullan Jr. said the loan will help finance the purchase of iron and steel commodities, dies and chemicals, nonferrous metals, medicines, and pharmaceutical supplies.

Today's Market and Financial Report

Stocks

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed sharply lower today for the third consecutive session.

Prices were around their low of the day at the final bell.

Aircrafts, electronics and air lines were particularly hard hit. Douglas Aircraft fell 4 points, and United Aircraft and General Dynamics fell more than a point. Zenith and Raytheon declined about a point. United Air Lines slumped 5 points, and Eastern Air Lines was off nearly 5.

Eastman Kodak went down more than 2 points and Du Pont lost more than a point.

Volume for the day was cutimated at 5.9 million shares compared with 6.28 million Tuesday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Despite the size of the losses by the averages, one broker said the reaction to U.S. bombing of oil installations near Hanoi and Haiphong was not severe. He pointed out that the decline came on low trading volume.

A number of Wall Streeters expressed the opinion that the steep losses Tuesday and Monday discounted the expected stepping up of North Viet Nam bombings.

Spyer Rand, up about half a point, looked like the most active stock of the day.

The aircrafts, electronics and airlines were off sharply. Douglas, actively traded, lost more than 2 points. General Dynamics and Boeing were down a point or more.

Zenith declined a point and Raytheon fell about half a point.

Pan American World Airways, American Airlines, United Air Lines fell 2 points or more.

American Telephone lost nearly a point and Du Pont was down more than a point.

Eastman Kodak and General Electric fell about 2 points.

Prices declined in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

MAGIC VALLEY'S HOME OPENER IS TONIGHT

Bruno Gets Starting Nod In First Look at Ogden; Family Night Is Planned

Professional baseball returns to Magic Valley and Jaycees Park at 8 p.m., Wednesday when the Cowboys will host the Ogden Dodgers in the first of a four-game series. With Cheryl Couch, the new Miss Idaho, the queen candidates and civic officials looking on, right-hander Larry Bruno will start for the Cowboys. It will be the first and last start for Bruno, who has to report to the Army by July 5. The big news for fans is a "family night" plan—allowing all members of a family to attend the game for $1. The pre-game ceremonies will start at 7:30 p.m. Miss Idaho will be introduced along with the queen candidates. Harvey Koop and his team will be introduced. Egon Kroft, member of the city commission, will throw out the first ball of the season and city manager Herb Derrick will be on the receiving end.

Planning Needed for Good Big Game Hunt

BOISE—Now that Idaho hunting regulations and the new deer-elk map showing management units are available, many people are planning fall trips into the back country, the Fish and Game Department hunters get that way by planning ahead, basing their judgment partly on calculated harvest figures by management unit for past years that show where the best success appeared to be," says Errol Nelson, big game supervisor.

He listed units around the state where the highest calculated elk and deer kills were made last year. These figures are based on the annual post-season hunter questionnaire.

Management unit 10, in the headwaters of the North Fork of the Clearwater River was the only area where the calculated kill of elk was more than 1,800 last season. Units showing over 500 elk kills were numbers 4, 6, 8, 12, 15, 17, and 39. However, there are elk in all but 4 of Idaho's 44 counties and many of these provide excellent hunting.

Most whitetailed deer range north of the main Salmon River, and mule deer are found throughout most of southern Idaho. Management units with a calculated deer kill over 2,000 last year were numbers 39 (over 3,870), 54 and 70. Those with 1,000 were numbers 1, 8, 13, 18, 22, 68 and 74. Unit 22 had a calculated deer kill of 1,887; unit 8 had 1,690; and unit 13 had 1,440.

The statewide calculated deer harvest last year was 56,400 deer and 14,000 elk, based on the post-season hunter questionnaire. Minnesota scored twice in the first inning off Cleveland starter John O'Donoghue. Zoilo Veras singled and Cesario Tovar tripled for one run. Harmon Killebrew then doubled to score Tony Oliva, who had reached base on a fielder's choice. Oliva slammed his 15th home run, leading off the sixth, and after a walk and single, Max Alvis' error let in another Twins run.

Homers Help Senators Tip Chicago 4-1

CHICAGO (AP)—Don Lock's three-run homer in the first inning and a solo blast by pitcher Mike McCormick helped the Washington Senators to a 4-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox Tuesday night.

Mccormick, posting his fifth victory against seven losses, scattered five hits as the Senators recorded their first success against Chicago this season after six straight defeats.

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill White's seventh-inning home run broke up a scoreless battle and gave Jim Bunning and the Philadelphia Phillies a 1-0 victory over Bob Friend and the New York Mets in a duel of two-hitters Tuesday night.

White's 13th homer of the season sailed over the right center field wall with two out in the seventh, and Bunning protected the margin for his ninth victory of the season against four losses.

Bunning, who pitched a perfect game against the Mets in New York two years ago, struck out eight, including four in a row at one stretch. He retired 15 of the last 13 batters he faced.

Santana, Drysdale Gain Windbledon Semi-Finals

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Manuel Santana, Spain's darling of the Wimbledon tennis aficionados, and the handsome South African Cliff Drysdale reached the semifinals of the Wimbledon men's singles Tuesday and braced themselves to break the 11-year hold Americans and Australians have had on the world's premier tennis title.

Manager Koepf was far from dispensed with his boys, although they lost two of the three opening games at Idaho Falls.

"The boys improved progressively with each game," he said, "particularly in hitting. We cut down the number of strikeouts from the first game and that was something we had to do."

"I'm going to be the club's biggest fan over this eight-game home stand," he added. "This progress has to keep up. We're looking at two new clubs. So I'll be watching the progress made by each play as much or more than anyone."

Koepf said the club got good pitching efforts from Charlie Hopkins, Bob Reynolds, Larry Johnson and Rusty Lane.

"Defensively, I thought we were adequate. We had some aggressive baserunning and that was very encouraging," he continued.

The club now has 24 players on its roster. The pitching staff includes Robert Lain, David Matthews, Robert Reynolds, Lawrence Bruno, Robert DeLong, Larry McCord, Richard Krollick, Larry Johnson, Charles Hopkins, Jerry Anding and Roy Johnson.

The catching chores will be handled by Adam Supala (sue-ah-pah-eh-oh), Mike Tyler, Mike Zenk and John Harrill. Infield are William Peptone, Gary Strom, Charles Peet, Don DeSousa and Joe Hobert (A-bear), and outfielders, Lloyd Christopher, Robert Manning, Scott Nelson and Keith Wade.

Following the four games with Ogden, Magic Valley will host Treasure Valley, July 3 through 6.

Village in Viet Nam Has Bunny Club

AN-KHE, South Viet Nam (AP) — The village of An-Khe in the central Vietnamese highlands boasts a bunny club but most of its bunnies are destined for the frying pan rather than for magazine pinups.

The hutch bunnies are rabbits with four legs and fur, and membership in the bunny clubs costs not a cent or, in Viet Nam, not a piaster.

The idea, conceived by Capt. Donald Savage of Augusta, Ga., is to establish a rabbit industry in the An-Khe area to supply meat, income and vitamins of thousands of refugees. They have poured into An-Khe with few belongings and little else other than hope for a better future. Savage proudly refers to it as "my hard-brained scheme."

A member of the U.S. Army's 41st Civil Affairs Team, Savage first tried starting a pig program but found the litters didn't come fast enough. Then he came up with the scheme for the bunny clubs — rabbits produce a family in about 28 days, as often as four times a year.

Savage enlisted the aid of Father Ngoc, an influential Roman Catholic priest in the area, and found 11 families willing to invest about $1 (or 118 piasters) each to purchase one male and two female rabbits.

total to rise even higher this year.

During the first three months of this year, the State Department issued or renewed 364,700 passports for travel abroad, 14.3 per cent above the same three-month period of 1965. And American tourists to Mexico and Canada, two favorite vacation spots, need no passports.

PATROL OPERATING

SALMON—The Salmon River patrol boat is operating again in the Idaho Primitive Area from Corn Creek to Salmon Falls on a three-times-a-week schedule to assist boaters and to engage in fire control. Joe Ladd, forester in charge of recreation, said that the Middle Fork float patrol will begin operating in the Idaho Primitive Area shortly after July 1.

GOP Leaders Back From Hard Line

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Republican leaders appear to be backing away from their previous hard line of advocating a step-up in the war in Viet Nam.

Their latest approach of accusing President Johnson of not telling the American public the whole truth about what's happening in Southeast Asia could reflect the mixed opinion campaigners of both parties have found among the voters.

Several senators who have been out on the hustings recently have come back with the general opinion that their people are greatly disturbed about the war but don't want it broadened and don't want the United States to get out.

Their findings do not seem to support the view attributed to Johnson that the hawkish those who want the war accelerated were growing in number.

In criticizing the President Monday for not telling all about Viet Nam, the Republican Policy Coordinating Committee failed to know its proposal of last December for a "Kennedy-type" of quarantine against North Viet Nam's principal port of Haiphong. This would be designed to blockade the shipment of war materials, in the manner of President John F. Kennedy's quarantine of Cuba in the 1962 missile crisis.

You see, Soft Whiskey is soft. It goes down just like the name says.

After that, it acts like any other 86 proof whiskey. It's just that getting there is a whole lot easier.

But how to prove that to you? That was the problem.

After all, Soft Whiskey looks like any other whiskey. And it acts like any other whiskey. So what's left is what we're selling, the way Soft Whiskey goes down.

At which point someone said: "Why not just ask people to try it?"

Our first reaction was that that was a bad idea. It wasn't scientific.

Our second reaction was that that was a good idea.

VIEWING SIGHTS OF Saigon from a podiatrist Tuesday is David Stucki, 21-year-old San Franciscan. Stucki, classified 4F because of a physical disability, changed places with a soldier in San Francisco last week and went to Viet Nam to join the war. He was discovered before he got to the battlefield. U.S. consular officials said they were trying to reach his father, Dr. Virgil Stucki, a dentist in Lafayette, Calif., to pay his son's passage home. (AP wirephoto by radio from Saigon)

David Stucki, 4F, Got to Viet Nam, but Didn't Fight

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — He was 4F and had only $5 in the pockets of his borrowed uniform when he arrived to join the war. But David Stucki never got a crack at the Viet Cong.

The San Francisco computer operator waited today for the long flight back home. He had been discovered as an imposter with his crusade hardly under way.

"I wanted to join the Army," Stucki, 21, said. "It's something I lacked. I wanted to fight here."

So he changed places with a soldier he met at a party in San Francisco a week ago. The GI was back home on emergency leave from Viet Nam and wanted a hardship discharge because of family problems—but was due to return in a few hours.

Stucki, whose own military ambitions had been thwarted by a physical disability, seized the opportunity.

"We decided suddenly to change clothes and I would take again Monday midnight. When in his place," Stucki said. He flew home in Tuesday morning and saw no work had been done, we were thoroughly alarmed and suspected foul play."

Stucki had been on the job about two months without giving any hint of wanting to go off to war. "A nice, competent, blond, and rather tall young man," said Wan. "He just looked like an average American."

An Army spokesman in San Francisco took a serious view of the matter. He said that if Stucki's story about borrowing the uniform and credentials is true, "God help that unnamed soldier."

Stucki dabbled at Saigon still undetected and made his way to the soldier's engineer battalion, but there the ruse ended. The battalion's noncoms spotted the fake GI, and Stucki was hustled back to Saigon.

U.S. consular officials said they were trying to reach his father, Dr. Virgil Stucki, a dentist in Lafayette, Calif., to pay for his errant son's passage home.

Back in San Francisco, Stucki's boss expressed astonishment at his employee's sudden emergence 5,000 miles away.

Roland Waal, manager of the computer operations at the University of California's Medical Center, said: "He was working the night shift and was due on duty the next morning. When he came in Tuesday morning,

You Bet Your Life

Careless walking killed or injured more than a quarter of a million people in 1965.

YOUR BIRTHDAY
and HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, June 29—Born today, you are by nature a person of peace. Dissension and argument are not for you; and controversy, far from inspiring you, as it does many, to displays of knowledge you didn't even know you had, leaves you cold. Your main desire is to live in harmony with your own family, first; then with your neighbors, your community, and the world at large. Not to do so brings you unhappiness and deep sense of guilt and of your own failure.

Because you take your relationships with others so seriously and expect that others will do the same, you are bound to meet with many a disappointment. Too sensitive for your own good, you respond too quickly and too deeply to a smile or a frown, perhaps not realizing that there are times when either means nothing at all. Learn to take more of your joy in life from yourself rather than from others; you will be happier doing so.

Yet your approach to others carries with it one outstanding trait that will take you far: your trust. Trusting others, you will generally find that others trust you. You may well become the confidant of people far more successful, far "greater" than yourself, simply because you bear with you an aura of the very peace and trust you exude. This, in itself, is an accomplishment of which to be proud.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birth-day and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Thursday, June 30

CANCER (June 22-July 23) —Leave no stone unturned in seeking a solution to your employment difficulties. Now is the time for proving your worth to co-workers.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) —Consider well the advantages of your present position before you leap hollering into changes. You may be better off now than you realize.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) —Best to leave technology to the experts. This is no day for experimenting with things you know nothing about.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) —Avoid tipping your hand regarding employment plans. You stand a better chance for success if you go it alone for this time being.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) —Resist the temptation to rest on your laurels. The wise Scorpio will busy himself with adding new stars to his crown.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) —Today could bring you
